TREACHER'S HIGHLAND MALT WHISKEY.

PRICE, Rs. 25 PER DOZ.

THIS genuine Malt Spirit was for many years imported direct by a few Gentlemen of Bombay for their own Consumption and attained a very considerable private reputation. The suggestion was made to Treacher & Co., Ld., that they should give this Whiskey a trial, and importations were then made. Its introduction into the Indian Market was attended with the most favourable results, it being very highly spoken of by everyone. It has continued to grow in favour, and is now regularly supplied to a large number of Clubs, Messrs, and Private Consumers. Treacher's Highland Malt Whiskey is the sole production of a very old Distillery in the Highlands, which confines itself entirely to the distillation of this fine Spirit. Before being bottled, it is allowed to mature in wood for some years until it has acquired an agreeable odour, and a delicious, full mellow flavour, much appreciated by Connoisseurs.

NOTE.—Purchasers of Treacher's Highland Malt Whiskey should observe that each Label and Capsule contains both the Company's Trade Mark, and the words "Phœnix Brand" stamped thereon.

LOST PROMISSORY NOTE.—Gunput Jugurnath, residing at Pepulwady, Bholeshwar, reports that he dropped from his coat pocket a promissory note for Rs. 1,000, somewhere between Mahdev Baugh and his residence on the 26th instant.

THEFT AT ERSKINE ROAD.—Goculdas Ruttonsee, a shopkeeper, at Erskine Road, reports that on the night of the 26th instaat, his shop was broken into, and that property, consisting of cloth, caps, and Rs. 200 in cash, of the collective value of Rs. 670, was stolen.

THE BENI-ISRAELITE SOCIETY.—It appears from the Jewish Chronicle of London of the 10th October that the Anglo-Jewish Association has voted £10 to the Beni-Israel Library of the Bombay Beni-Israel Balottejak Subha, a Beni-Israel Literary and Educational Institute in Bombay.

BOMBAY ANTHROPOLOGICAL SOCIETY.—At the usual monthly meeting of the Anthropological Society of Bombay, which will be held in the Society's Rooms, 6, Apollo Street, Fort, at 5-30 p.m. this evening, an address will be delivered by Mr. W. F. Sinclair on "the Maritime Tribes of the Konkan."

THE NASIK IMPROVEMENTS.—We are desired to state that Mr. Goculdass Madhowdass and Mr. Ghelabhai Tapidass have taken great interest and have assisted Mr. TEatte, the Deputy Commissioner, in the subscription towards the combined scheme of water-works and a bridge over the Godaveri at Nasik.

THE INDIAN CIRCUS.—To-morrow and also on Friday the management of the Circus are offering special privileges to railway employes on the G. I. P. and B. B. & C. I. Railways. As will be seen from an advertisement railway employes will be granted admission to the circus at half price on production of certain cheques, which may be obtained from the officials at the different stations.

A SUCCESSFUL STUDENT.—We are glad to learn from the last number of the Lancet to hand that Mr. Joseph Baird, the eldest son of Mr. J. P. Baird, Traffic Manager, Bombay Port Trust, has passed the examinations in anatomy and physiology, held at the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons last month. Mr. Baird, who had a very successful career in the Grant Medical College, Bombay, of which he is a Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery, intends to compete for the Indian Medical Service.

DROWNED.—An inquest was held by the Coroner yesterday, at Curry Road, Parel, respecting the death of Balcrishna Namdeo, aged 13 years. Deceased was employed at the Ookerda Khetsey Mill, Parel, as a bobbin boy. On Monday evening deceased went to a tank in the mill compound to bathe. He was standing on a rock when his foot slipped, and he fell into deep water, and was drowned before any assistance could be rendered him. His dead body was recovered about an hour after the occurrence. A verdict of accidental death from drowning was recorded.

THE REV. J. C. PEREIRA.—The Rev. J. C. Pereira, whose death was recorded in your yesterday's issue, writes a correspondent, was ordained priest in Portugal, and on his way to India he had an audience with the Holy Father. He was curate at Salvacao, Vicar of Malvan and Coorla, and on the death of Rev. N. Da Silva was appointed Vicar of St. Andrew's, at Bandora. During his last incumbency he made some improvements in the Mount Mary's Chapel, and promoted the progress of St. Victor's Musical Society. His funeral, which took place last evening, was largely attended. During the funeral procession the St. Victor's and St. Paul's bands played the "Dead March in Saul." He was buried at the foot of the high altar, amid the regrets of his parishioners by whom he was much loved and respected.

PARSEE CHARITY.—At the performance of the third day's funeral ceremonies, in connection with the death of Mr. Muncherjee Nowrojee Banajee, a total sum of Rs. 17,500 was contributed by his relations for charitable purposes, to be specified hereafter :—Rs. 5,000 from the deceased's estate; Rs. 3,000 by his widow, Dhunbaijee; Rs. 3,000 by his daughter, Sherinbai; Rs. 3,000 by his eldest son, Cursetjee; Rs. 1,000 by the deceased's son, Cowasjee; Rs. 1,000 by another son, Nanabhoy; Rs. 500 by the deceased's sister, Soonabai, wife of Mr. Heerjee Ardasir Dady Sett; and Rs. 1,000 by a friend of the deceased. It is said that Rs. 5,000 out of the above amount will be made over to the University authorities for the purpose of founding a scholarship bearing the deceased's name.

ARREST OF GAMBLERS.—Ramsunder Kuwari and six others were yesterday charged before Mr. C. P. Cooper, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, at the Esplanade Police Court, by Inspector Nolan—No. 1 with keeping a common gaming-house, and the others with gambling with cards and money in a room, located in Tanna Street, on Monday night. The building, situated opposite the Prince's Dock, was entered by the police, who had a warrant from the Commissioner of Police for the arrest of the gamblers. The first prisoner was seated near the entrance to the gaming-house and disappeared on the approach of the police, who, however, afterwards secured him, together with his companions. A sum of Rs. 5-6-3 was collected on the ground and three packs of cards. His Worship fined six of the prisoners, who pleaded guilty, Rs. 5 each. The case against the first accused, who did not admit the charge, but informed the Magistrate that the gaming-house was kept by another person was remanded till to-day, pending the attendance of two witnesses, his Worship accepting bail of Rs. 50.

BURGLARY IN THE FORT.—Constable Ellis yesterday charged a Mahomedan, named Cassum Mahomed, alias Hoosein Alli, with house-breaking and theft, before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, at the Esplanade Police Court. On the morning of the 25th instant the prisoner was arrested in Dalal Street, Fort, with a considerable quantity of cloth, valued at Rs. 22-10, in his possession. Rustomjee Dadabhoy, a clerk in the firm of Messrs. Warden and Company, identified and claimed the property, which had been found missing from their sample room on the police bringing the accused to their premises, on Saturday last. From enquiries it transpired that the accused broke into their premises, having gained access to them by means of duplicate keys, a number of which were found upon him. The suspicions of a police sepoy were aroused from the strange manner in which the prisoner behaved after quitting a shop in the Fort, where he had offered his piece-goods for sale. Cassum, on being arrested, endeavoured to evade the policeman by informing him that he had been employed by Mrs. Warden, of Colaba, to sell the piece-goods. Prisoner being previously convicted was sent to the House of Correction to undergo one year's rigorous imprisonment.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 28.

CONSOLS remained at Friday's quotation of 94¾ in London yesterday; but the market rate of discount on short Bills was put up ⅛, say to 4⅛ per cent., that on six months' sight Indian Bank Paper however being still quoted at Saturday's enhanced rate of 4½ per cent. Indian Sterling Loan was unchanged at 105½. An advance of ⅛d. took place in the price of Silver at 48⅛d. per oz.; and Rupee Securities were ¾ per cent. higher in each denomination at £79¼, and £82, respectively. In New York, the metal advanced 1½ cent., say to 105¼. Exchange on London being half a cent. lower at 4·85½. The Exchange Banks' buying rate in London on India, at 30 days' sight, remained at 1s. 6d. Paris quotations come unaltered.

An advance of 3d. per quarter took place in the price of Bombay Linseed, both on the spot and to arrive, the quotation being 43s. 9d., ex-quay, in each position. Prices of Wheat were unchanged. The London periodical Skin Sales commenced yesterday with the Goat Skin Sales at which there was a firm feeling, and prices 1d. to 1½d. per lb. higher. The number of Goat Skins put forward at these rates is 540,000; and of Sheep Skins there will be 590,000 offered.

The Liverpool Cotton Market closed quiet, all round, last evening, the total Sales having reached only 6,000 bales inclusive of 800 Surats. 5⅜d. was still the price of spot Mid.-American, and previous quotations are repeated for Arrivals, in all positions, prices of East Indian Cotton being also unaltered. The day's Imports were 16,000 bales. The Manchester Market was quiet.

A further decline of 1-16 cent took place in the price of ready Mid.-Uplands in New York yesterday, at 10 1-16 cents; January Futures being three points lower, at 9·90 cents. The Receipts at the U. S. Ports were heavy at 72,000 bales; and the total figures since the opening of the season now give the following comparison with those of the preceding two years for the same period:—

	1890.	1889.	1888.
Monday's Receipts	72,000	54,000	46,000
Two days' do ...	121,000	99,000	91,000
Since 1st Sept	1,860,000	1,702,000	1,339,000

Demand in our local market for the staple is very slack, and only a small business, aggregating some 700 bales of Veerumgaum, at Rs. 181; Julgaum, at Rs. 175; Dhollera, at Rs. 178; Tinnevelly, at Rs. 195; and Dhulia, at Rs. 162, taken from stock by local spinners, is reported. In Cotton of the new crop, the purchase of a small parcel of the earliest arrivals of Julgaum is reported at Rs. 190½ per candy. The tone of the market is quiet, and prices may be called Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy lower.

WHEAT is quite unchanged in value, and there has been no increase in demand for export to-day, only a moderate business having again transpired; but the tone of the market keeps firm.

SEEDS have been neglected, having been taken to only a small extent, and the price of Linseed has given way half an anna per cwt., our quotation being now Rs. 6-6-6 to Rs. 6-9-0 per cwt.; otherwise prices are unaltered, and feeling is steady.

The Receipts of Produce into Bombay on Saturday were as follows:—

Cotton.....	1,264 bales.
Wheat	51,771 cwt.
Linseed	11,034 „
Gingelly	3,039 „
Poppyseed	967 „
Groundnuts.....	637 „
Castorseed	2,379 „

FREIGHTS are steady, but with not much doing. Seed cargo has been engaged for Marseilles, at 16s., and for Dunkirk and Antwerp at 17s. per ton, for prompt shipment.

EXCHANGE, under the influence of the better feeling in the London and New York Silver Markets noticed above, opened at an advance of one per cent. on yesterday's closing quotations, and has, during the day, recovered fully one per cent. more, our rate for Credits being 7-16d. above that at which business was done yesterday. A fair amount of Merchants' Bills have been placed; but we have heard of little demand for Bank remittance. We quote at closing ready

Bank Bills on Demand.....	1s. 6 9-16d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic.....	1s. 6 7-16d. to ¼d.	„
Do. 3 months' sight ...	1s. 6 23-32d.	„
Credits do.	...1s. 6 15-16d.	„
Francs do.	...1·99½.	„

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—A change has come over this market to-day in sympathy with the tenor of advices from the other side, a strong feeling having been apparent both for Money and Account, while rates have advanced ⅛ to 3-16 per cent. for Fours for cash and the settlement, for which 103 was quoted at closing. For the 1st December (for 30th November) account, 102⅝ is the quotation; 106 being still nominally quoted for 4½ per cents.

SHARES are quiet, and beyond some demand for Mofussil Press scrip there has been little enquiry on any line but the general feeling is steady at our quotations.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1890.

THE public will watch with some interest the issue of the controversy now pending between the Poona Municipality and the Executive Government. The latter have declared, with no uncertain voice, that the Poona Municipality is a doubtful success, and both friends and enemies are aware that "if, in the opinion of the Governor in Council, a municipality is not competent to perform, or persistently makes default in the performance of the duties imposed on it by or under the Act, or otherwise by law, or exceeds or abuses its powers, the Governor in Council may, by an order published, with the reasons for making it, in the Bombay Government Gazette, declare the Municipality to be incompetent or in default, or to have exceeded or abused its powers," and thereupon certain disagreeable consequences are bound by law to follow. It looks then as though the legal sword of Damacles were now impending over the heads of the Municipal Commissioners of Poona, and people are already asking when the sword will descend. It will not fail to be noticed that the key of the situation is "the opinion of the Governor in Council." This opinion is likely to depend materially on the character of the reports received from the higher executive authorities, and also on the patent results of municipal administration in Poona. It is known that the Commissioners are not satisfied with the way in which the enquiry into the merits and demerits of their work is being conducted, and they allege—we know not with how much truth—that they are not being quite fairly treated in this regard. It is only necessary now to say that if Government hope to secure the confidence of the public in any decision that they may take on this matter, they must see to it that their information as to the work of the Municipality comes from impartial and unprejudiced witnesses, and that the counsel of advisers who set out with a pronounced distrust in local self-government per se must be accepted with resolute caution. The mere fact that Government have already formed an estimate of the working of the Municipality which in some respects is markedly unfavourable is one reason why they should proceed in the matter with peculiar caution.

We hope, however, in spite of all that has been said, that there is no warrant for the prevalent belief that Government are unfriendly towards the Poona Municipality. Certainly we should be reluctant to believe that their endeavours to increase the efficiency of the Municipality are meant to cover a general attack upon local self-government in the Mofussil. It will be remembered that Lord Reay's Government, who had conceded to the Poona Municipality the peculiar privilege of electing their own president, were the first to propose a change in its constitution, a proposal which carried with it an acknowledgment that its work, from various causes, had been anything but perfect. We showed last week that the Municipality are not disposed to let judgment go against them by default, and that on some points of the indictment which has been drawn up against them they have an answer which, at all events, claims fair hearing. The root and origin of all the inefficiency which has been revealed in their work has already been indicated. As we stated last week, in Poona as in all other Mofussil Municipalities, unpaid and amateur Commissioners have been left to undertake executive and supervisionary duties. And in Poona as elsewhere the result cannot better be stated than in the words which we have already used. It seems, in fact, scarcely reasonable to expect continuity and efficiency in the operations of amateur irresponsibility working under such circumstances; and this is what every official and non-official of experience plainly stated when the Act of 1884 was under consideration. Local self-government in the shape of government by Punchayet is a good thing, provided it secures the one thing needful, viz., honest and decent local administration in the towns. But if the Act of 1884 had been specially devised to show what a vain thing local self-government is when unaccompanied by any provision for regular and responsible executive action, it could hardly have been more cleverly devised for that purpose than it has been. The fault is not so much with the Municipalities themselves as with the legislators who seven years ago proceeded on the assumption that no special provision need be made for the executive part of the machinery of local self-government. One result has been that the system has called into activity many energies, but that not all of them have tended to improved local administration or anything like it.

We are not thinking of Poona now, but it is a fact that there are parts of the Presidency where the elective system in Municipal administration has aroused into unwonted activity all the slumbering forces of envy, hatred, and malice which permeate the social atmosphere of Indian towns. It has furnished local intriguers with a splendid leverage for the gratification of factious spite. It has converted the internal government of some important Municipal towns that we might name into a simple bear garden. Each faction, as a rule, votes solid at the bidding of the local wire-pullers, while the ratepayers look on with amazement, wondering when their interests are going to be looked after. There are, it is true, the "bludgeon clauses" always in reserve, but they are for "ending" rather than for mending matters, and to rely on them as a protection against mismanagement looks very much like trusting to the destruction of an institution as the only means of making it efficient. Yet the difficulty of bringing to book by any less drastic means those who failed to do their duty is constantly pressing upon the administration and vexing non-official well-wishers. How, again, it must be asked, can we expect continuity and efficiency from a body of men who are subject to no pressure but that of the Collector, and he is always discounted as an unfriendly official. And after all it is official co-operation, and not official coercion, which is wanted. The Poona Municipality, with not unjustifiable bitterness, complain of the neglect of the legislature to enable the municipalities to delegate power to their executive officers, and the weakness of the Municipal executive in many of these cases is as much the fault of the law as of the bodies who have been so unfortunate in their endeavours to administer it. We trust that Government will give due weight to all that may be urged on behalf of the Poona Municipality. But it is important at the same time that they should try to probe the seat of mischief and of weakness in that and other Municipalities. Local self-government after all is only a means to an end; and if the end be not attained, it is not only European officials who will complain. Already from many parts of the Presidency come signs of a growing reaction against the unwisdom of expecting continuity and efficiency to be attained where the mechanism is so defective. Cynical officials are said to be chuckling over every new instance of failure and disappointment, as though they would thereby mend matters. A more reasonable course would be to carefully diagnose the system which they so confidently declare to be discredited and to point out the direction in which amendment is to be sought. "Deleuda est," as a phrase expressive of an angry determination, is intelligible enough. As a principle of constructive policy it is not worth much.

THE rather cheap criticism to which Mr. Caine and his work in connection with the Indian liquor question have been subjected in this country does not seem to have affected his estimate of the results. In an address to the friends of the work in India which appears in the current number of Abkari Mr. Caine claims that the resolution moved in the House of Commons last year by Mr. Samuel Smith has borne fruitful results far beyond the most sanguine expectation of the leaders of the work. We ourselves, in estimating some months ago the result so far of Mr. Caine's intervention, indicated at least three points upon which the action of the Government of India had already justified his work, and it is interesting now to quote his own summing up of the results of the Parliamentary victory last year. As the direct result of the carrying of Mr. Smith's resolution, he says the Indian Government now stand pledged to certain well-defined reforms of their licensing system, namely, the abolition of the out-still system, the taxation of the strong and highly intoxicating beer brewed in India, increased duties on imported and native spirits, and a recognition of the principle of local option with regard to new liquor-shops. These, as Mr. Caine says, are indeed weighty results to have achieved in so short a time. In the circular in which this justifiable boast is made, Mr. Caine seems to indicate that for the moment the duty of the friends of temperance in India is not to criticise or embarrass the action of the authorities, who are making earnest endeavours to promote reforms, though they recognise that they have to take care that these reforms are acted up to universally by the civil administration throughout India. We would suggest that the time has now come when Government should give the public some opportunity of judging how the system experimentally introduced into the Thana and Kolaba districts in August of last year is working. It was understood at the time that Mr. Mackenzie introduced the new system by which the auction sale of Abkari farms was done away with, and the still-head duty was reduced and a low minimum guarantee fixed, that upon the result of the experiment it would depend whether or not this new arrangement should be applied to other districts in the Presidency. We put it to Lord Harris whether the time has not come for enabling those of the public who are interested in this matter to come to some conclusion as to the results of the experiment undertaken in August 1889. No one wishes to suggest that Government should act in any way in independence upon their departmental advisers in this matter. But unofficial criticism has its claims, as the Secretary of State, when the fact was brought home to him by a resolution of the House of Commons, frankly recognised, and it would not be right for final judgment to be passed upon the working of the latest expedient in Abkari administration entirely upon the counsel of official witnesses. However, the matter is one upon which a too resolute insistance just now might be inopportune, and we notice that even Mr. Caine congratulates himself upon relief from "the unpleasant duty of attacking the Government system, pending a fair trial of the promised reforms." He thinks that the time has come for making special effort for the formation of students' total abstinence societies. This surely is a work in which no one, whatever his view upon Abkari questions in general may be, will wish him hindrance. The drinking student is a character perhaps bettter known in Bengal than on this side of India, but there is decidedly a need for an organised manifestation on the part of intellectual India that enlightenment and intoxication do not necessarily go hand in hand. Even when we have reached that lowest phase of opinion which treats the intellectual emancipation of the natives of India as nothing better than an introduction to alcoholism, we shall not have found an argument to urge against the newer phase of the temperance movement in India. If men meant half they say in denouncing the higher education of the natives of India, Mr. Caine should find his chief supporters in those who are contemptuously sceptical of all useful work in that direction.

THE Survey and Settlement Department, despite the harsh things said against them by Mr. Seymour Keay, should at least be thanked for the additions which they from time to time make to our information concerning the outlying portions of the Presidency. The most recently issued "Selection from the Records" is an admirable illustration of what the Department is doing in this direction. It relates to the introduction of a survey settlement into the Mokhada Mahal of the Sholapur Taluka of the Thana Collectorate, a locality whose chief claim upon our interest is that but for the operation of the survey officers little would have been known of it. Mokhada lies amongst the mountains, far off the beaters' track, with the Peint Taluka of the Nasik Collectorate on one side, and with the Jawar, Damaun, and Dharampoor States bordering upon other portions. It may be cited as a typical backward district. It is wild, rugged, woody, and poor. The inhabitants are for the most part aboriginal, only about fifty Brahmins and fewer than three hundred Mussulmans being found in a population of twenty-five thousand. The rest are mainly Kolis, Thakurs, and forest tribes of various sub-divisions. Even amongst these low castes there are social gradations rigorously observed. There are Kolis who eat dead cattle and those who do not, and who therefore look down upon the others. So with the Thakurs. One sub-division, who are supposed to have come from above the Ghats, and who owu cattle and cultivate fairly, stand aloof from another who are badly off, and are besides indolent and careless cultivators. Here the root-eating, forest-product-consuming classes abound—classes without the instinct for thrift or the motive for it. Even amongst the cultivating classes the absence of a commercial stimulus which the isolation of the district entails, and perhaps, too, a low physical condition induced by chronic fever—for the prevalent type of fever is exceptionally bad—have led to an inefficient and a relatively unprofitable agriculture. The absence of wells, for there are only seven worthy of the name in the whole of the Mahal, is another unmistakable mark of backwardness. The one school, with its thirty pupils out of a population of more than twenty-five thousand, is another; and lastly there is the fact that the records show only one sale of land, without a single instance of that inevitable accompaniment of civilization, a mortgage. Yet the sowcar has set himself up in Mokhada, and men are in debt there as they are everywhere else. The district thrives in one direction. Its population has more than doubled—on paper at all events—in twenty-five years; and so has the number of its agricultural bullocks, the latter a significant fact, because there is a peculiar local tenure in some parts according to which the cultivator is assessed, not upon the area of his holding, but upon the number of bullocks which he uses for cultivation. Here is a district, then, in which a thirty years' survey, on being introduced for the first time, would need to be brought in with cautious regard to its local peculiarities. Something short of the stereotyped survey system has been resolved upon, but the establishment for land revenue purposes in the district is inefficient through want of village officials, and it is proposed, therefore, to amalgamate the forest and the revenue services. The Mahal is recognised to be primarily a forest region, and if due safeguards be provided the arrangement might work well until the agricultural character of the district asserted itself more distinctly.

A MEMORIAL to the late Sir Howard Elphinstone who was drowned at sea in March last while on a voyage to Teneriffe, is being promoted at Devonport. A meeting was held at the Raglan Barracks there to consider a proposal to erect the memorial in the garrison chapel in that town. The memorial will take the form of a brass tablet and lectern, which are being prepared by Mr. T. J. Gawthorp, of Long-acre, London. The tablet, mounted on a large block of black marble, will be placed in the east chancel wall of the chapel, near the pew which Sir Howard occupied. It will be surmounted by an emblematical representation of a ship at sea, with, on either side, an officer in mourning, one in military and the other in naval uniform. The general's coat of arms and crest, the arms of the Royal Engineers, the Victoria Cross, and the Orders K.C.B. and C.M.G., will be displayed on the tablet, which will also bear an inscription. It was resolved at yesterday's meeting to hold a special service in the garrison chapel to unveil the memorials at a date to be afterwards fixed, and the hope was expressed that some member of the Royal Family would perform the ceremony.

EIGHT Parsee girls attending the Alexandra Native Girls' English Institution have already enrolled their names as candidates for the forthcoming matriculation examination of the Bombay University. Miss Rattonbai Ardasir Framjee Vakil, a daughter of Mr. Ardasir, of Messrs. Ardasir, Hormusjee and Dinshah, solicitors, appears as candidate for the second or final B. A. examination, her sister, Miss Meherbai, having already obtained the B. A. degree of the University. Miss Hirabai and Miss Jerbai Burjorjee Parakh, who passed the matriculation examination last year, present themselves as candidates at the previous examination this year.

IT has been ascertained, as the result of the latest enquiries, that the liabilities of the Cambay State amount to about Rs. 2,35,000.

SENHOR CONSTANCIO R. DAROCHA, a native of Goa, has been appointed consular representative at Pretoria, and not at Zanzibar, as was erroneously reported.

IT is reported that the murderer of Colonel J. D. Stewart has been discovered and killed. The treacherous murder of Colonel Stewart was one of the early episodes of those exciting times when Lord Wolseley's expedition was on its way towards Khartoum. Colonel Stewart was General Gordon's companion at Khartoum, and was engaged under his orders in the bombardment of Berber. His steamer afterwards stuck on a rock near the Wady Garna Cataract. He and his companions, among whom were Mr. Power and M. Herbin, went on shore and arranged with Suleiman Wady Kamr for camels to continue their journey by land. Suleiman went on board the wrecked steamer, and received a sword and a dress as gifts. Afterwards he treacherously murdered Colonel Stewart, took the steamer, and killed nearly all on board. The news that has now reached Cairo is that Selah Bey, with his men, had come across Stewart's murderer. In the conflict Suleiman was killed.

A CORRESPONDENT informs a contemporary that quite a furore has been created in Brahmin circles in Arungabad by the proselytism of one of its members. The young man turned Mahomedan suddenly, of his own accord, and has consequently been out-casted, while his young wife, a girl of only ten years of age, has been declared a widow and treated as such. Her head has been shaved; she has been deprived of her jewels and other ornaments, and doomed to undergo all the horrors of child-widowhood. Her husband has taken things quite unconcernedly, declaring that whatever his family or thier caste may decide to do, he will still cling to Mahomedanism.

MR. LABOUCHERE writes:—"I understand that the addition to the Portsmouth Government House, which the Duke of Connaught has ask ed for, is to take the form of a large annex, built of galvanised iron, with teak lining, and a new lodge is to be built at the entrance gates. Extensive decorative repairs are likewise being carried out, and a quantity of new furniture is to be supplied."

INSTEAD of the electric light diminishing the amount of gas which is consumed, the opposite is sometimes the case. Returns prepared in the United States from forty centres where the electric light is largely in use, show that for the first half of the present year there has been an increase of 13·2 per cent. in the consumption of gas, as compared with the same period of 1888. In place of electricity drivingout the gas companies, the gas companies are in many cases in the States absorbing the electric light companies.

PRINCESS MAUD of Wales, whose health has recently caused some anxiety to her relatives, has been considerably benefited by a course of the Vichy waters, and since her return to England she has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson at Farringdon House, Devon, Mrs. Johnson (formerly Mdlle. Vauthier) was for many years the governess of the daughters of the Prince and Princess of Wales, and she only quitted their household a few months ago when she married Mr. Johnson, who was Liberal member for Exeter in the Parliament of 1880.

DUBLIN Irish Society is responsible for the following:—Prince Albert Victor, many months ago, fell deeply in love with Princess Helena d'Orleans, daughter of the Comte de Paris, and became engaged to the Royal lady. The betrothal is said to be one of deep affection, an agency rarely prominent in Royal spousal affairs. Her Majesty the Queen has, we understand, virtually given her sanction to the matter on conditions which embrace the important one of the bride-elect becoming on her marriage a Protestant, she having been since her birth a Roman Catholic. The Comtesse de Paris has consented to her daughter's change of religion, but the Comte has not done so, and unflinchingly opposes that line of action on the part of his child.

REDUCTIONS IN BURMA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Oct. 27.

The formation of a fourth Burma regiment has been sanctioned by the Government of India, and the Myingyan Military Police Battalion, one of the finest in the service, has been given up for the purpose. It is also settled that a Madras regiment is to be disbanded; it is not yet known which. In consequence of the growing peace of Upper Burma, reductions of the military police amounting to three thousand men will be made this year, and other larger reductions will be made at an early date.

The Chief Commissioner intends amalgamating Minbu with the Magwe Battalion; Sagaing with the Lower Chindwin; and Pakoku with Myingyan. Thus three commanders will be saved, and considerable reductions made.

THE SANDOWAY REBELLION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Oct. 28.

The Judicial Commissioner of Lower Burma gave his judgment to-day in the appeal of the Pyawbwe dacoits, five of whom had been sentenced to death, and the others to penal servitude for life for the murder of a Police Inspector, near Rangoon, on May last. The life sentences on the two accused were reversed, and the prisoners were acquitted; all the sentences of death were changed to penal servitude for life. In his judgment, the Commissioner said that the charges against the police of extorting confessions by continued ill-treatment of the prisoners had been broken down completely.

RACES AT KIRKEE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, Oct. 28.

A couple of interesting point-to-point races were witnessed to-day at Kirkee. The chief point of interest was the Holkar's bridge, close by which the competitors swam across the river with their steeds. The scene presented at the river was a very picturesque one; a small fleet of boats being afloat to render assistance in case of accident. The first race was for galloways, the course extending from the Kirkee Polo-ground to the Deccan College. Three ponies started, namely, Mr. Corbyn's Wildboar, Mr. Stack's Ama, and Mr. Robertson's Bridge. All three took kindly to the water and swam across in pretty style; and in the end Wildboar won easily, Ama being second. The other race was for horses; and here also there were three starters only, namely, Captain Peyton's Dick, Mr. Corbyn's Freedom, and Mr. Lloyd's Australian. Peyton secured a boat to tow him across, and reached the opposite bank just a wee bit ahead of Lloyd, whose horse had swam across unassisted. Peyton reached home first. Freedom got on very well with Corbyn till he got into midstream, where he gave little trouble and parted from his rider, who had some trouble in recapturing him and steering him across. At the conclusion of the races, a general adjournment was made to the Royal Artillery mess-house.

THE BOMBAY PRESIDENCY RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, Oct. 28.

The local meeting in connection with the Bombay Presidency Rifle Association's programme for 1890 commenced to-day on the Wanowrie Ranges, which were kept engaged from 6-30 a.m. till 11-30 a.m. Captain Leslie, of the 2nd Grenadiers, has been appointed local secretary, and he will have a very busy time of it, too. The atmosphere was clear and the light on the targets good, but the heat was very severe and trying after 8 o'clock. Several matches were competed for this morning. In the Czarewitch for Officers, Lieut. Stack, of the 3rd (Queen's Own) Light Infantry, made the splendid score of 33 points, at 500 yards. The best score for the same match for the men of the British Army and Volunteers is 32, put up by Color.-Sergeant Fraser, of the Worcestershire Regiment. He made six bull's-eyes running, but in his seventh and last shot he was only able to score an outer. In the Bugle Stakes Competition for the British Army, Color-Sergeant Whitty, of the Worcestershire Regiment, made 45 points, with 13 shots. He put in six bull's-eyes and seven centres. Private Higgs, of the Fusiliers, comes second with 44 (five bull's-eyes and eight centres). In the Revolver Competition, Colonel Carrington, Commanding the Worcestershire Regiment, and Quartermaster Young, of the same regiment, scored 28 points each out of 30, outstripping all the other competitors. In the Poona Stakes (400 yards) for natives, two competitors made a possible each, and one man a 34. The shooting here was specially good.

The following are a few of the highest scores in each of the matches fired for this morning:—

MYSORE ADMINISTRATION REPORT.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

MYSORE, Oct. 28.

The tenth annual meeting of the Representative Assembly was held to-day, about 220 members were present. The Dewan read his address, which gives a general review of the administration of the year 1889-90. The receipts under the heads, including railways, was nearly 144¾ lakhs, and the expenditure nearly 130 lakhs. Compared with the previous year the receipts show an increase of 10¾ lakhs, one-half of which was under land revenue, due mainly to the extension of cultivation. The net surplus of the year was 14¼ lakhs. The Dewan laid stress on the encouragement of indigenous industries when referring to the concession proposed to be granted for the establishment of the iron industry with modern appliances and improvements. A system of life insurance for Government servants is under contemplation. The measure is calculated to benefit the public service materially by promoting its independence and purity, and improving its general tone. In conclusion the most important subject of the constitution of the Assembly was touched upon. The moderation, intelligence, and practical good-sense, which have characterized the discussions of the Representatives in past years, have convinced the Government that the wealthier and more enlightened classes may safely be allowed themselves to elect members for the Assembly, and rules have accordingly been framed providing for such election. The various local fund boards, municipalities, and public associations will also depute members to the Assembly. It is proposed hereafter to gradually enlarge the circle of electors so as to give a wider effect to the principle of representation in the constitution of the Assembly. The announcement of this concession of election gave great satisfaction to all present.

BOMBAY GYMKHANA CRICKET IN 1890.

(FROM OUR CRICKET CORRESPONDENT.)

It is always satisfactory to review the cricket season of a team that has had an almost uninterrupted career of success; in fact, so much so has it been thus with the Gymkhana this year that they may well have said, or thought, "Bring us some one who can beat us." That the Parsees are probably the only team in the Presidency who would be likely to do this, is already well known, as also that there was no chance of a meeting between the two; but this we may touch on later. The only two defeats out of 17 matches were by the Ladies' Gymkhana and the Y. M. C. A. The first can hardly be called one at all, as all the winning team were Fort Gymkhana men. The Y. M. C. A. victory was certainly a fair and a crushing one, and that the Gymkhana should have collapsed for 19 is utterly indefensible, for on no other occasion were they ever dismissed for less than 74, the total of the 2nd innings vs. H. H. the Thakore Saheb of Wadhwan's XI. The Gymkhana has certainly possessed this year a team believed to be stronger than any preceding one, and particularly so in bowling, as the statistics below will be found to show. Cricket has been carried on late into October, and the last wickets of the last few weeks have been taken every advantage of. A larger number of members than ever have been consequently able to play, and the minor matches proved very popular; the interest taken in the play, from the tent, has also proportionately increased; it was invariably well filled, and one well-known and popular medico, lately retired, has, we believe, never missed witnessing a single match or game throughout the season. Mr. Gould and Mr. Pestonjee have managed on every occasion to prepare excellent wickets, and the turf has been in capital order throughout.

The batting averages are good, on the whole, but the bowling shows a marked improvement on last year. In the former department, Mr. Steel is easily first, with the fine average of 41·60 for 416 runs, as against 24·4 for 357 runs, 15 innings, last year. He has just failed to reach the century, but his batting has been most consistently good, while in bowling he has had more work than anyone else, and taken the most wickets, though he has not had the same luck as last year, when he led the averages with 9·40 for 1360 balls and 89 wickets. Mr. Edyvean has risen from his 11·42 for 80 runs 7 innings of last year to 3·7 for 259 runs in the present one. He has not often played, but has kept up his reputation of possessing the best eye and a pair of the strongest wrists in the Eleven, and more than once has scored at a tremendous rate. Mr. Raikes' first year of Bombay cricket has been a distinct success. Luck places him high in the batting, but he shares with Mr. Steel the distinction of being a slow bowler whom no one can treat with contempt at any time. A peculiar action, combined with a wonderful command of the ball in break and pace, has given him a larger proportion of wickets clean-bowled than any of his fellow-trundlers, and we were sorry he could only play so seldom. Mr. Lowis, from Ahmednuggur, was able to play during most of the season, and as a thoroughly sound, finished bat, good change bowler, and first-rate field, gave very great assistance; he holds the honour of being the only century-scorer of the year. Mr. Gould has shown a great improvement in his batting of late, and a careful study of the game, combined with some excellent "coaching," have no doubt led to it. He has dropped from his average last year, 21·75 for 174 runs, 11 innings, to 16·66, but has played oftener and batted more consistently. Mr. Twiss, who could only last year raise an average of 6·9 for 41 runs, has come rapidly to the front, and was generally safe for runs, besides being a useful slow bowler and a very smart and pretty cover-point. Mr. Barton has dropped from 22 for 264 runs, 15 innings, to 15·64, and has till quite lately been a disappointing bat, and can only score on a fast wicket. He has been, however, a very useful deep-field to the two slow bowlers, and both he and Mr. Lowis, who shared that capacity, have rarely failed to hold a catch throughout the season. Neither Mr. Bentinck nor Mr. Prevost played last year, and both, the former especially, were very useful batsmen. Mr. Bentinck had no long innings to help him to a good average, but his smaller contributions were very often most timely ones; Mr. Prevost's 53 against the Byculla Club was one of the best innings of the year, but he played seldom and was often out of practice. Mr. Clark, who holds the leading bowling average by a decimal, has come on most appreciably since last year, when he took only 13 wickets in 523 balls for 172 runs, or an average of 13·23. He has kept up his end with great success, and was often most deadly, especially so on the fast wickets at Poona.

The fielding, with perhaps the exception of the first day of the Poona match in Bombay, was quite up to the mark; Mr. Steel at short slip helped the downfall of many a wicket, Messrs. Twiss, Prevost, and Beatty were all very smart and accurate in throwing in, while Mr. Edyvean's nimble legs and clean throwing perhaps outshone them all. Mr. Nicholson had again the charge of the wicket, and proved very useful to both the slow bowlers.

Below will be found the batting and bowling averages, the names shown above the line being those of the group lately photographed as the team of 1890, with the addition of Mr. Macbeth, who was unable to be present. The averages, batting and bowling, are compiled from the figures of all who played for the Gymkhana in every match, with the exception of afternoon and scratch games. Also of those Gymkhana members who played against the Gymkhana in the following matches:—both Civil vs. Military, the XXII match, Byculla Club, Marine Lines, and Ladies' Gymkhana matches.

The first point at once noticeable in the above table is the startling fact that not a single individual innings of 30 has been this year hit against the Gymkhana by any of the many foreign teams played. The only names under the "Opponents" column are those of Gymkhana members, who, under the title of the match, have been for that day playing against their Gymkhana. This is certainly unparalleled in Gymkhana past records, and would be probably so anywhere, and it is only a fair tribute to the excellence of the bowling. In four matches, the first Y. M. C. A., Messrs. Ralli Bros., Customs House, and H. H.'s team, there were no innings of 30 on either side.

Of the above innings, Mr. Edyvean comes first, with a total number of six. Mr. Steel follows him closely with five; and Messrs. Gould, Twiss, and Barton have three apiece.

The next table will be of interest in showing a bird's eye view of the whole season's matches, with the scores on either side and the results thereof; following which are some comments on the matches themselves.

Highest score made by Gymkhana...223 vs. Poona.
Lowest ,, ,, ... 19 vs. Y. M. C. A.

The strength of the Bombay batting this year is very clearly seen at a glance from the above small table; they exceeded their opponents' total number of runs by no less than 771, and they captured 281 of their opponents' wickets, while only losing 190 themselves, or a difference of 91 wickets—otherwise 9 completed innings of 10 wickets a piece. Mr. Steel's consistent batting is mainly responsible for the average per wicket all through the season being 16·38, for only 6 of the team hold an average, individually, of 16 and upwards. But it speaks well, too, for Bombay bowling that it was able to keep their opponents' average per wicket down to 8·33, a really remarkably low figure, even taking slow Bombay wickets into consideration. But this, of course, is due to the fact that in Messrs. Steel, Raikes, and Clark, the Gymkhana have had a trio of amateur bowlers who would be hard to beat anywhere, while, for the minor matches where these luminaries did not appear, there has been a sufficiency of creditable bowling in reserve to prove strong enough for the batting calibre of the team to be met.

And here a word of praise is due to the committee for their judgment in selecting teams, which, except perhaps on one occasion, could not be regarded, either before or after the match, as over-strong for their opponents. The exception might be laid at the door of the Indian Marine, who certainly did collapse most miserably in their defeat by an innings and 120 runs. But as aforesaid, in our account of the match at the time it took place, the ships were expected to bring a strongish team, and had, we believe, themselves given out that idea. On every other occasion the Committee, and Mr. Gould in particular, strove hard to include enough good men to fall back on in emergency, while, at the same time, giving a place to as many new comers as possible. And to this is due the marked popularity of cricket this season; no one cares for eternal practice at a net with no chance of showing how the shooters and yorkers of Messrs. Framjee, Nurding, &c., can be met as equally well in a match as at the Gymkhana nets. Nothing fosters and brings out rising talent so much as to give it opportunity to be visibly seen and proved, and we hope the same consideration for these players will always be shown by the Committee in coming years.

A glance now at the larger table given above will show that out of the 17 matches won, four were won outright in a single innings, and 2 by 100 runs and upwards, the closest margin being the Customs' House match, where the Gymkhana could only bring off a 10 runs victory. The first important match was with Ahmednugger, who after Bombay had found themselves unable to send a team there, were sporting enough to bring down their own team here, a venture which we can only suppose was conceived under hopes of a more creditable issue to the match than actually befell them, for they were terribly badly beaten. Then came the Byculla Club match, which is now a yearly fixture, and the exchange of courtesies on the ground are subsequently renewed at the hospitable hour of 8 p.m. in the Club itself, and a very popular match it is. Both Civil and Military matches fell to the Civilians, no bowler having, either this year or last, arisen from Colaba or the Marine Lines. They have, however, contributed some valuable batting to the Gymkhana, and have the advantage, not so common to their civil brethren, of being able to get away and play when required. The attraction, too, of the higher Standard, and the fame of the Bombay munshi and the Board, has drawn cricketing probationers who have done the Gymkhana good service, and will no doubt again. The Thakore Saheb of Wadhwan failed again to take away a victory with him, but he gave the Gymkhana some trouble, and the match was honoured by being the only two-day one, with the exception of Poona, in the match-programme. Gay Poona may be able to dance and row and cater liberally for the public in the way of theatres, concerts, &c., but she has not been able to turn out a cricket team, for both Poona matches were simply a "walk-over." And yet, with all the resources for cricket at Army Head-Quarters, it seems passing strange that the gallant Major in command of the cricket there should have been so poorly supported as he was. The Hindoos were again, twice over, unsuccessful, though they managed a draw in the first match, but not one in their favour. They have already been freely—perhaps too freely, in their opinion—criticized in these columns, but a critic is no critic to lay on superfluous honey in and out of season, and we venture to say that if it had not been for the adverse criticism, not perhaps unmixed with ridicule, which attended the initial efforts of the Parsees years ago, they would not be anywhere near the position they hold among cricketers now.

There were no matches with the Parsees this year. The events which led to this are already too well known to need further comment. We will only express a hope, which we feel certain is shared by both Europeans and Parsees alike, that the matches will be renewed during next, and all succeeding years, and that all differences of opinion will be henceforth buried.

MILITARY NOTES.

(SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED.)

The first local meetings in connection with the extension of the Bombay Presidency Rifle Association are now in progress, and that at Poona may be said to have commenced on the 24th instant, when some intending competitors about to proceed to Secunderabad were allowed to shoot before going, and before the local meeting began. The Poona local meeting commenced yesterday, the 28th instant. We regret to hear that Major Parker-Jervis of the Musketry Staff will not be able to see the meetings this year brought to a conclusion, as he is obliged to take leave owing to ill health. His place as honorary secretary will be taken by Major C. Burroughs, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General of the 2nd Musketry Circle.

The inspection of the Poona Volunteer Rifle Corps, which was fixed for the 15th November, has been altered to the 8th idem.

Colonel W. C. Mackinnon, formerly Chief Inspector of Musketry at India Army Head-quarters, and who brought out the first book of Musketry instruction for the Native Army in India, has been elected Secretary of the National Rifle Association. It will take a good man to fill Captain E. St. John Mildmay's shoes, and we trust that this, the third attempt, may prove successful. A great amount of tact is required to enable the occupier of the post to get on with the thousands of volunteers who annually congregate for the big meeting.

The Poona Volunteers have been dragging out their fourth rifle meeting, mis-named an "Association," and we observe that one match is postponed until after the local Presidency meeting is completed. The matches have not filled as they ought to have done, and prizes have been won by scores very poor indeed. In one match prizes aggregating rupees one hundred, given for combined drill and shooting, were competed for by fifteen members. This is bad form. We trust that the number of competitors at the next meeting will at least be doubled.

The present meeting was noticeable for the number of Parsees who competed. Some sixty of them who joined a year ago attend drill well, and are attentive to the drill-instructors and the Adjutant. They are of fairly good physique, and give promise of turning out good volunteers. It is to be regretted that the Government do not see their way to allow the Parsees to drill together as a company, and select their own officers. Were this allowed, we should have genuine rivalry in volunteering just as we have at cricket. At present they do not take kindly to shooting, notwithstanding the excellent example they have in Mr. Dorabjee Padumjee; and were this Parsee gentleman but to take the captaincy of the company, we should soon have a Parsee rifle team of strength to face in the annual shooting for the Association and other cups.

Major-General Solly-Flood, commanding the Poona District, proceeded to Mahableshwar yesterday. He will, therefore, not be present during the local rifle meeting.

The Government of India have sanctioned the opening of the Khandalla Sanitarium at any time the military authorities may consider it to be necessary, whether the Purandhar Sanitarium is full or not. We have also heard it stated that soldiers will not in future be kept at Purandhar during the monsoon months, but will be withdrawn to Poona, where the rain-fall is light. There is also a report that the accommodation at Ghizree is to be extended to meet demands from the Quetta District for change of air.

The rearmament of the 1st Battalion 60th Royal Rifles has been explained in one of Reuter's later telegrams, but it is an undoubted fact that there has been too much tinkering with the action and magazine attachment to de-Americanise it and make it British. The Lee rifle, pure and simple, was the best magazine rifle extant until the Lebel surpassed it. It was too clumsy in stock and barrel fittings, too weak for use as a pike, and too heavy to be carried by the soldier, and consequently was very rightly thrown aside when the question of a magazine rifle for the British Army came to be considered. The British Government then tried to improve on it, and in time we had the Lee-Enfield.

There can be but little doubt anywhere about the shooting powers of the barrel. We believe that Mr. Rigby, the superintendent of the Government Rifle Factory, the maker of the celebrated Rigby rifle, can turn out as good a barrel from Enfield as can be made in the world, but even he has had to borrow largely from American ideas to perfect his weapon. The barrel and sighting of the .303 arm are as good as can be obtained anywhere, but the action and magazine attachment are faulty. The former has been too much tinkered and thereby weakened for army use, and the bullet from which so much was expected has also proved a failure. Pure lead, or a mixture of tin and lead, 1 to 12 to 1 to 16, have all failed, as from the smallness of the bore and great friction, combined with rapidity of fire expected from a weapon with a magazine attachment, the rifle barrels on trial have leaded badly and given wild results. And it has been a difficult matter to clean the inside of the barrels, owing to the smallness of the bore. We have the barrel, but we have yet to look for a perfect action and bullet.

The home authorities in their researches after a perfect magazine arm sought to combine the smoke less powder with its steel or nickel-coated bullet without success. Walth mite gave way to Cordite, and the latter in its turn gave way to Curtiss and Harvey's No. 6 black powder, compressed in pellets. The practices carried out at home by the battalions armed with the new weapon, and at the schools of musketry, have demonstrated that the black powder cannot yet be beaten; but it has also been demonstrated beyond any possible doubt that the Martini-Henry in the hand of our soldiers has also proved itself a superior weapon, so far as accuracy is concerned, and general serviceability, to the magazine arm.

The T Company Queen's Westminster Rifles armed with the Martini-Henry, and the sergeants of the 1st Battalion Scots Guards, armed with the magazine rifle, fired a match on the 7th instant, ten men a side, at Queen's distances and conditions, which resulted in a win for the much-abused malformed Martini-Henry, by 78 points, the new weapon at 600 yards being found unreliable even in a light but unsteady wind. It was proved in this match that even at that distance when the Martini-Henry required 8 on the Vernier for wind, the magazine rifle required 12, and it is well-known that the longer the distance the greater would be the ratio of allowance between the two rifles.

The daily papers (says Truth) have reported "a persistent rumour" at Berlin and Vienna of the approaching betrothal of Princess Victoria of Wales to the Crown Prince of Roumania (Prince Ferdinand of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen); but there is not the slightest foundation for any such ridiculous rumour, however "persistent" it may be. The Prince in question is to marry an Austrian Archduchess, if certain religious difficulties can be surmounted.

MRS. KENDAL AT HOME.

Harley Street, writes Mrs. F. F. Millar, has been immortalised by Lord Tennyson, but not in a flattering manner, for in "In Memoriam" he calls it "a long unlovely street." So it is; photographer could not characterise it more precisely. It is one of those half-fashionable streets that cling on to the skirts of a good square, and are inhabited by professional people in the main. Every other house in Harley Street is occupied by a physician or a dentist; in one of the intermediate houses live Mr. and Mrs Kendal.

The street is intensely and even aggressively "respectable." The houses are big and solid, but ugly and dull outside, straight up and down edifices of dirty bricks with flat windows and shrunken doors, undecorated by porch, balcony, or portico pillar. At one end of Harley Street is Cavendish Square. This is fairly fashionable—the Duke of Fife had his town house there till he married the Princess, when he removed to the far superior region of Portman Square—and at the other end of Harley Street is Regent's Park, which is not at all fashionable. Harley Street is "betwixt and between," in its character as well as its situation.

The house is built in the traditional British style—five storeys above the basement

MORAL EDUCATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

Sir,—Having for many years taken a deep interest in the intellectual and moral education of Hindu women, especially those of the higher castes, I have been greatly pleased and interested by Mr. C. L. Peacocke's description of the inauguration of a moral system of education for girls at Surat, but as I have not the good fortune to be acquainted with the precise details of Mr. Trivedi's system of moral instruction, I should feel extremely grateful if either he or Mr. Peacocke would kindly favour me through the medium of your widely read and influential columns, with some particulars regarding the undogmatic principles of ethics that are now being inculcated at Surat. A system of teaching that embodies "the highest conceivable standard of morality," and from which anything of "a sectarian or dogmatic nature" is excluded, must be so peculiarly adapted for universal dissemination that it would be a boon to humanity at large if it were to be fully expounded by such practical men as Messrs. Trivedi and Peacocke evidently are. I feel convinced that the time is fast approaching when a new cultus, which will embrace all the good and reject all the evil of the older creeds, must obtain general adherence among the thinking portion of mankind. Think what a blessing this would be to the world! It seems to me that a system such as Mr. Trivedi's—a system that avowedly expounds "the purest ethics," and embodies "the highest conceivable standard of morality,"—must contain in it the germ of such a world-religion as is now eagerly awaited by many a man who is like myself, an earnest

CRICKET.

A. W. C. CLUB vs. ISLAM C. CLUB.

A MATCH was played between the above teams on Sunday, when the Islam C. Club was defeated by 18 runs on the first innings. Mr. Rao, the captain of the A. W. C. C., winning the toss, sent his team to the field and disposed of them in 31 runs. The A. W. cricketers scored 49 in the first innings, of which 17 were contributed by Mr. Y. G. Talpade, and 7 by Mr. Kale, not out. In their second venture the, Islamists secured 48 runs mainly, owing to the free hitting of Mr. Y. S. Ali, who carried out his bat for a well-played 28. The A. W. cricketers, who required 31 runs to win, went in again. Time was against them, however, but they put together 27 runs for one wicket, when time was called. The leading feature of the match was the excellent bowling of Messrs. Kale and Patkar of the A. W. C. C., and Mr. K. S. Ali of the Islamists; Mr. Kale of the A. W. C. C. performing the "hat-trick." The fielding of the A. W. C. C. was on the whole very smart. The following is the full score and bowling analysis:—

A CORRESPONDENT of the Times, writing on Apollinaris, says:—The question may be put by others which I put after visiting the Apollinaris spring—"Should the demand continue, can the supply keep pace with it?" A convulsion of nature might destroy the spring; an earthquake dries up mineral springs and destroys cities; but if no abnormal change occurs, the drinkers of Apollinaris water may feel assured of being supplied with their favourite beverage, while those who have not yet drunk it need have no fear of being sent empty away. Careful tests have been made which demonstrate that the existing supply is adequate for filling 40 million quart bottles yearly. When the demand is in excess of these figures, then the Apollinaris Company may have to sink a second well. It is quite clear, however, that the Apollinaris spring yields enough water, not only for present requirements, but also for those of a future which is still remote.

THE BOMBAY FABIAN SOCIETY.

ON Saturday last, at the residence of Mrs. Gostling, the Bombay Branch of the Fabian Society held its usual monthly meeting. Mrs. Gostling read a paper on Hindu Child-Marriage, in which she dealt chiefly with the present phase of the question, and attempted to show that the property-question was really at the bottom of infant-marriage. In the course of her lecture she said that the agitation had been going on for some time past. The Rakmabai case first brought it into prominence, and it had now culminated in the case of Phulmoni Dossee, which was known as the Calcutta case. The Public Health Society of Calcutta, the Hindoo Reform Society of Bombay and Madras, and the Social Reform Society of Hyderabad had memorialized Government. The women of India were also sending in a memorial. The lady, physicians of India, with one exception, had also sent in a petition and, with so much public opinion on its side, the opposition to the reform could not possibly be anything like that experienced on the occasion of the abolition of hook-swinging, the car of Juggernath or Sutti. The question of child-marriage was quite apart from that of child-widowhood, and infant-marriage was no part of the religious system of the Hindoos. The evils resulting from infant marriage were the, compelling of a woman to give herself up to a man she did not choose. And enforced child-widowhood, which often meant more than death itself to the widow. What really underlay the whole subject was the property-question, which was very prettily got over by flattering the women into the belief that marriage raised her to the position of a goddess, and that having reached this height she must remain a widow, if this misfortune overtakes her, for the sake of discharging spiritual functions necessary for her husband's welfare in the next world, and infant-marriage was a subterfuge invented in order to keep the husband's property in the husband's family, for by a second marriage it would pass completely out of the late husband's family, and Hindoo law prevented any claim to property in the event of re-marriage. Hindoo child-marriage had its fearful evils, but they should not forget that English marriage laws were not yet perfect. It was only a few years ago that it dawned on Englishwomen that the marriage ceremony in which the husband said "with all my worldly goods I thee endow" was simply not true, for he not only kept his own but could take every penny belonging to the wife, and it is only four years ago, since this was altered, by what is called "the Married Women's Property Act." That alteration in the law was brought about by women themselves, and it was to be hoped that the women of India would be as successful in their endeavour to bring about the enactment of the law for which they were agitating. This movement in India was a very encouraging sign of the times. It showed the progress that was being made in India.

In the discussion which followed upon the lecture, Dr. Ryder, Messrs. Balfour, Corkery, and Mr. Gostling took part.

A YACHT RUN DOWN BY A BUGGALOW.

BEFORE Mr. C. P. Cooper, the Chief Presidency Magistrate yesterday, at the Esplanade Police Court, the inquiry into the collision in the harbour between Sir Henry Morland's yacht the Water Queen and a buggalow, in the charge of Dhakha Kalia, was continued.

Captain J. B. Mackay, Assistant Conservator of the Port, appeared on behalf of Sir Henry Morland and assessed the damages at between three and four hundred rupees. Two planks of the yacht had been broken right through in the collision.

Poshia Nagoo, tindal of the yacht Water Queen was called and said:—At about a quarter-past six on the 18th inst. the yacht was coming from Mazagon. There were two buggalows at anchor ahead of us, one to the leeward and the other to windward. The yacht could not go to leeward. The accused's prow was noticed coming from the harbour towards Mody Bay. Though the accused was shouted to to sail to leeward he did not do so, and struck the yacht on her larboard bows. Some planks of the yacht were stove on her bows. I took the name of the prisoner who was sailing close hauled. The wind blew from the west and the tide was on the ebb. The accused's boat was sailing between the two prows which were at anchor on the yacht's larboard and starboard bows. (Witness produced a few diminutive models of the prows and yacht and pointed out the courses on which the yacht and prow were standing showing the latter to have taken a course which directly crossed that of the yacht. The wind was on the prow's portside and she was close hauled.)

Captain Mackay: Did you beckon to this man to keep away as well as hail to him?—Yes. I should have struck the other prow on my starboard bows if I had kept away on my course.

Prisoner: Is it not true that I was going between the two buggalows?—No, you were on the outer side of the two prows.

The helmsman of the Water Queen was next called, and corroborated the evidence of the tindal.

The defendant called Arjun Hurry, who said: I am a tindal to a prow, belonging to a ghattee. About a quarter to six on the 18th inst. I was on my prow in the harbour. The accused's prow was ahead of me about twenty-five or thirty fathoms. I noticed a boat with two sails set standing down the harbour. The side of the boat collided with the bows of the prow which were broken. The boat went on, and the accused's prow went to the Bunder.

The next witness gave corroborative evidence.

The Magistrate: Are you acquainted with the rules in force in this harbour, that boats close hauled on the port tack must give way to boats close hauled on the starboard tack?—Yes. But in this case there was plenty of room for the yacht tacking to leeward. Licensed boats shall on all occasions give way to private boats when it is practicable.

His Worship, in considering the evidence, thought it was the duty of the prowman to have kept a good look-out and on seeing the position of the yacht to have gone to leeward, and not to have risked the chance of being able to pass the Water Queen. The defendant was fined Rs. 50.

ALLEGED MURDER IN A CHUNDOOL SHOP.

THE particulars of what appears to be a case of murder committed over a fortnight ago only came to light yesterday, at an inquest, opened by the Coroner, Dr. T. Blaney, at the morgue. The inquiry was into the death of Mahamood Alibux, aged 30 years. Deceased, who was a hack victoria driver, was an habitual chundool smoker. It appears about 16 or 17 days ago deceased, while at a chundool shop at the Chuckla, was severely assaulted by three or four Mahomedans, and had been laid up ever since. He was treated at a Charitable Dispensary in the neighbourhood of Chuckla, but he made no report to the police when the assault was committed on him. He gradually became worse, and his brother Oosman Alibux removed him from a house at Chuckla to his own residence at Temkur Moholla, on Monday last. He died there yesterday forenoon.

Oosman Alibux said: He was a ships' labourer. Deceased was his brother, and was aged 30 years. He was an habitual chundool smoker, and had no fixed place of residence. Witness saw deceased about eight days ago when he told him that some persons had beaten him, about a week previous to that, from which he suffered great pain about his ribs on both sides. On Monday forenoon a woman came to the Prince's Dock and told him that deceased was dying in a chandool shop, at Memon Moholla. He told the woman to take deceased to his (witness's) house in a victoria. Deceased was then very ill, and could not partake of any food. Yesterday morning witness left deceased in a dying state at his house and went to his work; shortly after, witness was informed that deceased was dying, and when he reached home found him dead. Deceased told witness he was beaten by one man, named Guffoor, and three others whose names witness did not know. Deceased was a delicate man, and frequently suffered from cough and fever.

At this stage the inquest was adjourned for further inquiry till the 1st proximo, and a post-mortem examination on the body of the deceased was ordered by the Coroner in the meantime.

THE Ultramar is responsible for the following paragraph which appears under the heading "Lazarista":—The daughter of a lady named D. Leonil de Telles, aged between 19 and 20 years, who was being educated by the Nuns of the Trinas de Mocambo, has been induced to enter upon a religious life. The lady, however, complains of His Grace the Archbishop, whose endeavours to secure the girl as a "Spouse of the Lord" are said to have been strong and inducive, so much so, that a Mahomedan servant was sent by the Archbishop at 9 o'clock at night to the house of the lady to take away the girl, who is said to be good-looking and is the heiress of some thousand rupees, &c., &c. To send a Mahomedan at night to convey a girl for a "Spouse of the Lord" in the Roman Catholic Apostolic Church, is progress in the Lazarist system. The Ultramar invites the attention of the Minister of Marine to the case.

THE SINGULAR CHARGE OF ASSAULT.

AT the Girgaum Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Richardson, the case of Alice Bunker and Shapoorjee Framjee vs. Rustomjee Cursetjee, an engine-driver, in the G. I. P. Railway Company, Framjee Cowasjee Daroowalla, Rustomjee Cowasjee Dharoowalla, Mahadoo Babajee, and Callian Kanjee was resumed. The two complainants, Alice Bunker and Shapoorjee Framjee, are alleged to have been assaulted by the five accused on the 26th July last, on which occasion a small gold watch, with chain attached, is also alleged to have been stolen from Alice Bunker, by the first accused Rustomjee Cursetjee. Mr. R. D. Sethna, barrister-at-law, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. L. De Souza appeared for the defence on behalf of the first three accused. The evidence for the defence went to show that the woman, Bunker, and Shapoorjee were both on the night in question under the influence of liquor; that Shapoorjee had a stick in his hand, and that the woman, Bunker, was seen staggering from the effects of the liquor on the Foras Road, where the alleged assault was said to be committed. The Magistrate, in disposing of the case, said that it appeared from the evidence adduced on behalf of the defence that the two complainants on the night in question went to the house of the accused, Rustomjee Cursetjee, at Foras Road with a full determination of creating a disturbance and assaulting him, when Shapoorjee had a stick in his hand, and that on that occasion both the complainants were drunk. On the evidence before him he (the Magistrate) discharged all the accused, and dismissed the complaint. At the conclusion of the case Mr. De Souza intimated to the Court, that his clients did not wish to proceed with the cross-charge of assault against Shapoorjee Framjee and Alice Bunker, and applied to his Worship to withdraw the cross-case. The Magistrate granted the application and the cross-charge was withdrawn.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD A MILITARY OFFICER.

LEON HEINRICH BLOMENSTOCK, assistant in the firm of Messrs. Watson and Company tailors, hosiers, &c., Fort, Bombay, appeared yesterday before Mr. C. P. Cooper, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, at the Esplanade Police Court, and applied for a warrant of arrest on a charge of cheating against a certain D. G. Ross. The complainant stated that defendant was employed as a clerk in the above firm up to the 25th instant when he resigned. Yesterday morning Captain Walker, Royal Artillery, proceeded to the firm and informed the assistant that a young man, whom he described, came to him and presented a bill purporting to have been issued by the firm for Rs. 100 for uniform supplied to Captain Walker and represented that he had been instructed by the firm to obtain this money. Captain Walker refused payment, as he suspected there was something wrong, and returned the bill to the young man. From the description given by Captain Walker the firm has reason to believe that the said D. G. Ross was the man charged by the complainant with attempting to cheat Captain Walker. His Worship granted the application, allowing defendant bail in Rs. 250 on personal recognisance and one surety in a like amount.

THE WEATHER.

OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT 8 A.M. ON TUESDAY, THE 28TH OF OCTOBER, 1890.

1. The barometric readings are all corrected to Calcutta standard and reduced to the same temperature (32°) and also of the sea level. The 2nd column under the head "Pressure" gives the difference between the barometer reading of to-day and yesterday at each station, and + prefixed to the number implies that the barometer has risen, and—that it has fallen.

2. The 2nd column under the head "Wind" gives the average motion of the air in miles per hour during the past 24 hours, and is obtained by dividing the total number of miles of wind registered by an anemometer during the previous 24 hours by 24.

3. The temperatures given in the table are of the air in the shade or in a small shed with open sides, and a thatched or straw roof. The maximum (max.) and minimum (min.) temperatures are the highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours preceding 8 a. m. The 6th column under the head "Temperature" gives the mean of maximum and minimum temperature, and is approximately the mean temperature of the day. The 7th column gives the difference (with the proper sign) between the mean temperature of to-day and yesterday.

SUMMARY.

The barometric changes during the past 24 hours have been generally moderate or slight, comprising a rise in the Punjab, the North-West Provinces, Sind, Rajputana, Central India, Berar, on the Coromandel Coast and also locally at Karwar, Surat, Malegaon, Khandwa, Sangor, Jubulpore and Deesa, and a fall elsewhere. The general distribution presents high-pressure areas in Rajputana and in the neighbourhood of Jubulpore and low pressures on and off the Malabar Coast. The small atmospheric disturbance which appeared to be approaching the Coromandel Coast near Negapatam has apparently crossed the Peninsula and seems to be passing in the Arabian Sea. The barometer reads above the normal average everywhere except at Calicut where there appears a trifling deficiency. Winds are westerly to north-westerly in the Punjab and the North-West Provinces, while in most other parts of the Indian region north-easterly to south easterly currents prevail. The force at Bombay, Sholapur, Madras, Trichinopoly and Colombo has been fresh, while it has been light elsewhere. This morning's observations show that the wind velocity was 10 miles per hour at Karachi and at Hoshangabad, Amraoti and Trichinopoly. The maximum temperature is below the average in several places except at Ajmere, Deesa, Amraoti, Akola, Surat, Malegaon, Bombay, Sholapur, Belgaum, Karwar, Masulipatam and Madras where it is above. The highest maximum was 96° at Deesa. Nights are cooler than usual in several parts of the Indian region, except in Mysore and at several stations in the Bombay and Madras Presidencies

MILITARY AND NAVAL NOTES.

A few days ago it was announced that the Admiralty had decided not to repair the Sultan and that she was to be withdrawn from service altogether. But such is not by any means the case(says the London correspondent of the Liverpool Courier). Indeed, so determined are the authorities to repair her that they have decided to spend the large amount of £200,000 in modernising her. At Portsmouth her ironworks are being chipped, scraped, and red-leaded, and it has been found that the old ship is in excellent condition, except where her bottom was ripped by the rocks. Her armour-plates have not started in the least. Had she not gone to the bottom it was intended to give her new boilers, engines, and guns, and to replank her decks, which were much worn after nineteen years, service, at the end of her last commission. Other old ships are receiving a great deal of attention just now. For instance, the Thunderer, a vessel six years younger than the Sultan, is to have £114,370 spent upon her; and upon the Hercules, three years older than the Sultan, will be expended £60,000.

Swimming exercises, it is believed to have been decided are in future to form part of the army training— a step taken as a result of a few exhibitions of swimming made during the recent cavalry manœuvres in Berkshire. When the manœuvres were originally arranged it was decided that swimming should be an especial feature of them, but this portion of the programme was afterwards abandoned. However, a few troopers and several officers attempted to cross the Thames at Moulsford, a few miles from the Churn Camp, but it was found that but a small minority were able to sustain themselves in a tolorably swift current, while the horses were almost panicstricken. The sequel, it is trusted, will be the establishment of swiming schools in the army, both for horses and man. The Commander-in-Chief is known to greatly favour the idea, and the only wonder is that such a necessary portion of a soldier's education should have been so long neglected, and that army horses should not also have been properly trained in this respect.

We understand that a marked falling off is observable in the quality of the candidates at the recent examination for vacancies in the Medical Department of the Army, and that this is so serious that the examiners have felt it their duty to make a representation on the subject to the Secretary of State for War. This is only what might have been expected from the failure of the Government up to the present date to act upon the recommendations of the Camperdown Commission in reducing the admitted grievances of the Medical Department of the Army in reference to title, rank, honour, foreign rota of service, &c.

The Government of India has decided that if an officer on privilege leave out of India exceeds the period of leave granted him, he forfeits pay and service for pension and promotion. It is a great pity thinks the Broad Arrow that the authorities cannot see their way to placing all officers on an equal footing as regards privilege leave home, by counting such leave from the date of embarkation to that of disembarkation. As matters now stand, officers suffer according to the distance they are stationed from Bombay.

The Admiralty have issued instructions for the Orion, 4, second-class twin screw battleship, 4,870 tons, 4,040 horse-power, attached to the Mediterranean fleet, to be paid out of commission at Malta instead of returning to England.—The repairs and alterations to the new composite sloop Basilisk, 8, 1,140 tons, 2,000 horse-power, Commander Lewis E. Wintz, have been completed at Sheerness Dockyard. After she has received her War Department stores, she will sail for the South-East Coast of America station, to relieve the Flamingo, 4, second-class gun vessel, 780 tons, 750 horse-power, Commander Henry C. Bigge, which is to return to England to be paid out of commission. A telegram from Halifax, N.S., says:—"Advices from Bermuda state that the court-martial appointed to inquire into the circumstances of the recent stranding of Her Majesty's cruiser Pylades off Jamaica has reprimanded the captain, while the chief engineer was dismissed his ship."——With a view of promoting engine design and construction in the dockyards, the Admiralty have decided to increase the engineering staff of each of the three principal yards by the appointment of a specially qualified engineering officer as head of the several drawing offices.——Although the blocks for the laying down at Portsmouth of the new first-class protected cruiser Crescent, 7,700 tons displacement, are not yet placed in position, a conuract for the building of her engines has already been concluded with Messrs. John Penn & Sons, of Groenwich. The engines are to develop 12 000 horses with forced draught and 10,000 with natural draught ——The Agent-General for the Cape of Good Hope announces that recruiting in England for the Cape Mounted Riflemen will cease at the end of October until farther notice.

A French paper claims for the French Army that it has "the youngest Colonel of all the armies of Europe in the person of Colonel Paul de Benorst, of the 17th Chasseurs, who succeeds to the command of his regiment at 43 years of age." Our French contemporary evidently is not posted in the details of the English Army observes a service paper or it would know that there are several officers in command of British regiments who are under 44 years of age. In the cavalry at the present time we have Colonels Douglas-Willan, 1st Dragoon Guards; Lister-Kay, 2nd Dragoon Guards; Amyatt-Burney, 3rd Dragoon Guards; Grant, 7th Dragoon Guards; Bibby, 4th Hussars; Harvey, 5th Lancers; Verelst, 11th Hussars; Wardrop, 12th Lancers; Spilling, 13th Hussars: Bock, 15th Hussars; Davison, 16th Lancers; Gough, 18th Hussars; French, 19th Hussars; and Graves, 20th Hussars; and in the infantry—Laye, 1st Scottish Rifles; Courtenay, 1st Royal Sussex Regiment; M'Causland, 1st Welsh; Sparkes, 1st Derbyshire; McCleverty, 2nd Derbyshire; Bayly, 1st Royal West Kent; Partridge, 2nd Royal West Kent; Ravenhill, 1st Shropshire L.I.; Knox, 2nd Shropshire L.I.; Wade-Dalton, 2nd Middlesex; Studdy, 2nd Manchester; Essex, 2nd Gordon Highlanders; Barnard, 2nd Royal Munster Fusiliers; and Kerr, 1st Royal Dublin Fusiliers,—all under 44 years—surely a good sprinkling of young officers to represent the British service. It has long been the aim of the War Office to create a system which would give us young and vigorous officers to command regiments. In this it has succeeded.

The United States Secretary for War has authorised the following expenditures:—$235,000 for construction of gun and mortar batteries for the defence of Boston harbour, $726,000 for New York harbour, $260,000 for San Francisco, $25,000 for steel field-guns of 3·2-in. calibre, $400,000 for breech-loading rifled sea-coast mortars (cast-iron and steel-hooped, 12 in.) $2,000 for sights and implements for guns and for fuzes, $143,135 for metallic cartridges for field-gun batteries, $100,000 for alteration of existing carriages for 10 and 15 in. smooth-bore guns, $10,000 for powder for proving 12-in. sea-coast mortars, $27,500 for cast-iron projectiles, $10,000 for cast-iron projectiles for proving 12-in. sea-coast mortars, $25,000 for steel shells for sea-coast cannon, $100,000 for steel armour-piercing projectiles for sea-coast guns, $165,000 for machinery to complete the full capacity of the Watervliet Gun Factory, $10,630 for washrooms, &c., at Watervliet, $2,800 for railroad sidings, &c., at Watervliet, $3,500 for engine and shafting, and $320,000 for lathes and travelling crane. In all, the allotments made amount to $2,261,565. Schedules of dimensions, weights, and other details, have also been prepared for the construction of 25 8-in., 50 10-in., and 25 12-in., breech-loading steel rifles, to be made under contract.

The French Mediterranean Squadron—consisting of the Formidable, Amiral Duperre, Vauban, Bayrad Duguesolin, Trident, Cuorbet, Amiral Baudin Forbin, and Vautour—left Toulon somewhat suddenly for a cruise on the coasts of Algeria and Tunis, and thence to Levant, Constantinople, and the Piræus. This somewhat precipitate departure, following immediately upon an official visit of the Admiral to Paris, combined with the fact that two months' pay was given out to the staff and the crews, gave rise to a report that the squadron was about to visit the Barbary coasts in view of expected political events. This however, was denied, to be succeeded by another report that the squadron left Toulon less the expressions of reciprocal amity between the French and Russian fleet should hurt the tender feelings of the Triple Alliance. The truth appears to be that the squadron is merely taking cruise which has been customary since the suppression of the naval division of the Levant, and when last heard from was at Besika Bay.

There appears now to be no doubt that in all the newer ships ventilation of magazines has been insufficiently provided for. Some alteration proposed for the Victoria have been received at home writes a contemporary and experiments will be made in her sistership, the Sans Pareil; but it is not only in these larger vessels that the defect has become apparant. It will be well, therefore, if the authorities face the trouble boldly and make their improvements thorough. In all probability some arrangement for the supply of compressed air would meet the difficulty; but until this is settled, neither expense nor trouble should be spared to find out what is to be done for the best. By-the-way, the Americans looked into this matter some time ago, and it would not be surprising if our authorities found a wrinkle or two in the back volumes of "Information from Abroad."

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE,

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer. Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 3 Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. "Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholera, Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is A DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, sir, faithfully yours Symes & Co., Members of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of iracy an imitation. Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT T. 33. Russell's Stree Bloomsbury; London.

KNIGHT OF THE LEGION OF HONOUR

LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE. THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

Incontestably proved by Thirty Years' Medical Experience to be

The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

DR. PROSSER JAMES,
Lecturer on Materia Medica, London Hospital.

"Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL contains the whole of the active ingredients of the remedy, and is easily digested. Hence its value, not only in Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, but in a great number of cases to which the Profession is extending its use."

DR. HUNTER SEMPLE,
Physician to the Hospital for Diseases of the Throat and Chest, London.

"I have long been aware of the great reputation enjoyed by the LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL introduced into medical practice by Dr. DE JONGH, and have recommended it with the utmost confidence. I have no hesitation in stating my opinion, that it possesses all the qualities of a good and efficient medicine. Its taste is by no means disagreeable, and might even be called pleasant. I have found Dr. DE JONGH'S OIL very useful in cases of Chronic Cough, and especially in Laryngeal Disease complicated with Consumption."

DR. SAUNDERS, C.B.,
Late Deputy-Inspector-General Army Hospitals, Superintendent London Medical Mission.

"I have used Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL extensively among the sick poor of St. Giles's, and consider it a valuable remedy, especially in the Wasting Diseases of Children."

DR. WHITMORE,
Medical Officer of Health, St. Marylebone, London.

"My own somewhat lengthened experience as a Medical Practitioner enables me with confidence to recommend Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT BROWN COD LIVER OIL as being more uniform in quality, more certain in its effects, more palatable, and infinitely less likely to disagree with the stomach than the Pale Oil. If I were asked for an explanation of the marked success which for so many years has attended the administration of Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL, I should say that it is owing to its extraordinary medicinal, dietetic, and reginimal properties, and which are found to exist in no other medicine that I am acquainted with, in such uniform combination."

WITHOUT THESE MARKS NONE CAN POSSIBLY BE GENUINE.

Sold by all respectable Chemists, Druggists, and Storekeepers throughout the World.

CHAPOTEAUT'S

PEPTONE WINE

TONIC, DIGESTIVE & NUTRITIVE

CHAPOTEAUT'S PEPTONE WINE nourishes the Sick & Convalescent, without fatiguing the stomach by the process of digestion; and is far superior to Beef Teas, Jellies, and Meat Extracts, which cannot nourrish the body if the digestive organs are defective.

CHAPOTEAUT'S PEPTONE WINE is used in the London and Paris Hospitals, for affections of the Stomach, Liver, and Intestines, and for Indigestion, Anæmia, Consumption, Diabetes, Dysentery; in extreme weakness and exhaustion arising from Tumours, Cancerous Affections, and all wasting diseases whenever an extra amount of nourishment is required.

CHAPOTEAUT'S PEPTONE WINE cannot be too highly recommended as a Tonic stimulant and Restorative to the Aged, Delicate Females, Lymphatic subjects and children.

CHAPOTEAUT'S

MORRHUOL

THE CURATIVE ACTIVE PRINCIPLES EXTRACTED FROM COD LIVER OIL NO TASTE OR SMELL

MORRHUOL is much more prompt in its action than Cod Liver Oil in the treatment of Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Pains in the Chest, Sore Throats, and Asthma.

MORRHUOL restores the health of pale weakly people, without appetite, and those afflicted with Skin diseases, Scrofula, Scabs, sores in the neck, sore eyes, and inherited lymphatic temperaments
From The Hospital Reports (translated).

« MORRHUOL represents the medicinal « part of Cod Liver Oil, it modifies « rapidly the general state of the patient, and develops the appetite in a « most estraordinary manner. Consumptive patients experience a fee- « ling of well-being, eat and digest « easily, and sleep soundly.
« Dr GAY, Gazette des Hôpitaux. »
From The Lancet March, 12th. 1887.

« M. CHAPOTEAUT has introduced a preparation of Cod Liver Oil called Morrhuol, which proves to be of considerable utility in the treatment of Consumption and wasting diseases. »

Sold in phials of 100 Morrhuol pearls, each of which is equal to a teaspoonful of oil.

"CARLTON" WHISKEY.

ELEVEN YEARS OLD & FIVE YEARS OLD

GOLD MEDAL CALCUTTA EXHIBITION, 1883-4.

THESE GRAND OLD SCOTCH WHISKIES are shipped only by RICHARD MATHEWS AND COMPANY, of London and Inverness, who are sole possessors of the Brand "CARLTON." They are distilled from the finest Highland Malt only, are in every respect equal to the Best Cognac Brandy, and guaranteed to be entirely free from Fusil Oil or other noxious impurities.

LABORATORY, ROYAL POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTION,
To R. MATHEWS & COMPANY. March 8th, 1878.
This is to certify that I have carefully Analysed a sample of the "CARLTON WHISKEY." I find it to be a very old and pure Spirit, perfectly free from Fusil Oil, or any other deleterious substance. In my opinion this Whiskey is of a very high character.
Berner's College, EDWARD V. GARDNER, F.A.S., M.S.A., London. Professor of Chemistry.

CAUTION.—It has come to the knowledge of the Shippers of the "CARLTON" WHISKEYS, that the empty Bottles have been dishonestly refilled with the poisonous trash very often sold in India under the name of Whiskey, this is therefore to caution consumers to CAREFULLY EXAMINE the CORKS and CAPSULES to see they have not been tampered with; also that the Corks, Capsuels and Labels are branded with their Trade Mark.
